Unitex Kicks off the Holiday Season with Hospital Parties, Fun-Filled Crafts, Special Presents and More

For over 5 years, the team at Unitex has been visiting local tri-state area children's hospitals to celebrate the holiday season and bring cheer to everyone. So far this December the team has visited Joseph M. Sanzari Children's Hospital at Hackensack Meridian Health and St. Mary's Hospital for Children in Bayside. From card making crafts to special presents for all, the team at Unitex looks forward to these events every year.

Later this season, the team will also visit Virtua Voorhees Hospital in Voorhees, NJ as well as Blythedale Children's Hospital in Valhalla, NY. The company also made a generous donation to St. Luke's Cornwall Hospital in Newburgh, NY for their annual holiday party. These holiday celebrations are part of the Unitex Cares program that focuses on giving back to local communities across New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

On Friday, Dec. 14th the folks at 401 held their annual Christmas gathering. The evening featured the first ever "Mildly inappropriate ugly sweater contest." Here the six finalists pose for a photo before the votes were tallied. Surprisingly birthday boy, Steve "The Bod" Bischoff won in a landslide. Next year we're hoping for even more participation and the editorial staff is already out and about looking for a competitive sweater for Michael to wear next year. All in all a terrific evening was had by all.

STEVE'S BIRTHDAY

Unitex takes a break to celebrate the holidays together.

Linden, NJ Tidbits

Unitex is always on the lookout for reliable and talented workers. Right Milena Sabater and Maria Salcedo attended a job fair November 1st in Woodbridge, NJ where they met numerous fine candidates for a possible career at Unitex. Below: Linden, NJ celebrates 60 days without an accident or injury with a lunchtime pizza party.

Linen Awareness Day at Good Samaritan Hospital

In an ongoing effort to help our customers save money, Unitex held a Linen Awareness Day (LAD's) on December 5 at Good Samaritan Hospital in Rockland County. LAD's provide an opportunity for hospital staff to drop by the Unitex booth to learn best practices for handling linen and to ask questions. The booth features a display that shows the cost of each item if lost or thrown out. Most people are surprised to learn that the linen is rented and that it costs the hospital money if they throw out or give away a towel. On hand to meet and greet the staff were Unitex Sales and Marketing team Seth Gershman, Chuck Cartelli, and Marie Mulgrew.

Will You Send Stories and Pictures?
